

Dear Patients:

First let me thank you for the trust you have given me over the years as your general dentist. Taking care of you and your family has been an honor for my staff and me. Your dental wellness and health have always been my top priority.

I'm writing today to inform you that I have accepted an appointment with the dental staff of the Lutheran Medical Center in New York. I have been selected with four other dentists from across the country to complete a two-year residency training program in Pediatric Dentistry. My program will focus on hospital-based dental treatment for children with extensive dental needs and life-threatening illnesses. I will complete my surgical training at Columbia University and will teach pediatric dentistry to the dental students at New York University.

Your dental records will be maintained here at the office along with the same staff that has treated you and your family for years. I hope that you keep your scheduled appointments in the coming year so that you can meet Dr. Howard Snider, the dentist whom I have worked with since 2001. Dr. Snider and I have trained together at the prestigious Kois Center for dentistry and share the same philosophy for treatment and prevention. You are in good hands with Dr. Snider as his dentistry is impeccable.

Rest assured that our team of hygienists, assistants and front office staff will still be here to take care of you and your family. Although I will not return to general dentistry in the future, I am always available to you via phone or email. I look forward to your questions and comments. Please do not hesitate to contact me at any time now or in the future.

It has been my pleasure caring for you.

Sincerely,

Gretchen K. Henson, DDS
